

MORTON'S NEUROMA

This condition is a painful, enlargement of a sensory nerve on the ball of your foot. This is the result of chronic irritation from inadequate shoes. Treatment consists of wider shoes, cortisone injections, and/or minimally invasive surgery to decompress the nerve. This surgery is done in the office, under local anesthesia with immediate weight bearing and minimal down time.